Advisor's Minute

It's been a great summer so far, and we're not finished yet! Venturers all across the Central Region have been participating in their Crew super activities, staffing summer camps, attending Venturing Blast at Philmont, and working on their awards and recognitions. VenturingFest at the Summit is the first week of August and we're looking forward to seeing nearly 800 Venturers and Advisors having fun there, too! Be sure to capture your experiences in words and pictures to share your Venturing story with others. And take every opportunity to invite your friends to join Venturing and have fun with you.

As we head into autumn it will be important to start detailing your program for the rest of the year. Planning your activities, working on awards, actively recruiting, and fund raising are all critical to continued success in your Venturing role. If you need additional resources, be sure to get a copy of the three key Venturing publications - the Handbook for Venturers, Venturing Awards and Requirements book, and Venturing Advisor Guidebook. These have the answers to nearly every question you may have. I would also recommend the new online training for Advisors - it's outstanding.

Enjoy your summer!

Jeff Gerald

Central Region Venturing Advisor

"Adventure is an attitude, a way of looking at the world and living our lives. It's not merely about climbing tall mountains, putting on musicals, or learning how to cook gourmet food. It's not only about what we do, but about who we are. It's about what happens inside us as we grow and learn from our experiences and as we lead and serve others." - Handbook for Venturers

President's Corner

Happy August Central Region,

I hope everyone has had a good summer. I am still excited for a few more Venturing events before school gets started and I hope you are too. I am looking forward to going to the Summit for the first national Venturing event at a high adventure base, Venturingfest!

Back in June I challenged everyone to think about what made your favorite Venturing event or outing so special. I asked each and every one of you to take one of the aspects that made an event so special and try to implement it for other Venturers. Were you able to improve the program for others this summer?

I know everyone has had an amazing summer attending summer camps, weekend camping trips, or other day outings. Think back to what made those trips so amazing. What new activities did you experience or new friends did you meet? What ideas do you have for new program? At my local scout camp where I worked we had a brain storming session to figure out what we could do to improve the program for years to come. Some ideas included a ga-ga ball pit, alpine tower, and bouldering wall. I once again challenge you to try to bring some new program ideas to local Scouting events. Let's make this year full of new and exciting program for the Boy Scouts of America.

I would also like to invite everyone to participate in the Central Region Venturing video competition. Emilio Cerda and his team created a competition and giveaway to those who want to create a video talking about your story. Look back at your amazing summer and create a video talking about all the fun you've had. Let's inspire others to join Venturing and share our experiences with others!

Yours in Venturing,

Chris Mausshardt
